Message from Zita

I am excited to announce that I am off to Shanghai for a participants meeting, for the Shanghai Expo scheduled for 2010. Namibia has reserved quite a large stand for this Expo (approx 300 square meters). The theme for the Namibian stand at the 2010 Expo is "Experience, Living, Diversity". The overall theme for the world expo is Better City Better Life. Team Namibia members will be informed of exhibit or procurement opportunities, in early 2009.

The past month has also seen us welcome our first educational institute, NAMCOL, to our Team. We also had a very fruitful meeting with the Namibia Standards Institution (NSI) to ensure that we become strategic partners and that we can standardize the process of endorsement by April 2009.

Remember that Team Namibia is the proud symbol of Competitiveness, Value and Quality. Use the Team Namibia logo boldly to grow consumer awareness of your accreditation.

Until next time

Zita

Team Namibia Chairman Mr. Tarah Shaanika, Gazza and Namcol CEO Mr. Heroldt Murangi

Jewel on the desert's edge - Omaruru

Did you know, that Omaruru produces wine, chocolates, marble and granite, arts and crafts and so much more. The small town has also become quite a tourist destination. We are proud to announce that one of our newest members, Kristall Kellerie, Wine and Schnapps producers, are from Omaruru.

BUY NAMIBIAN

Why you should support local

Buying Namibian is good for all of us and is crucial in securing our country and our children's future. As a Team Namibia member you should always try to support other Team Namibia members first, before opting for an import, or buying from companies not part of Team Namibia.

What this country needs, is for all Namibians to associate themselves with Namibia. We need to support what is local and what will ultimately benefit you and the rest of the country. Our association with South Africa is not necessarily a bad thing but we must continuously ask ourselves how many South Africans look out for us. The Namibian market is a lucrative one, hence the influx of foreign companies investing in Namibia and the growth in Namibian entrepreneurs flourishing since independence. In order to protect the goods and services that are made and offered in Namibia, and ultimately, Namibian jobs, all of us must support local in as far as possible.
