

MESSAGE FROM THE TEAM

And there we are! August is here and our AGM, set for August 12, is just around the corner. Please make an effort to come – invites have been sent out and final RSVPs are needed this week. If you cannot make it, please send the Proxy form to Team's offices so that we can make quorum.

BIG news is the launch of our third directory at our gala event on July 24, (pictures above) which made the Namibian newspaper with great fanfare. We are currently in the process of readying copies to be sent out to all members – you will love her... she is simply gorgeous this year. We will be distributing copies until July 2011 throughout Namibia so if you know of a distribution point anywhere, let us know.

Our gala, with the launch also of the Friends of Team Namibia campaign, which was held in the Moringa Room on July 24, was a smashing success.

And just to give the event that extra splash of glam, we had models parading in specially designed garments made from plastic bags sponsored by Plastic Packaging. Thanks to Pambili and the Bank Windhoek Arts Festival for this wonderful opportunity to develop Namibia's future fashion industry!

Finally too, we can tell you about our billboard campaign, our flagship for the year, the Friends of Team Namibia. Dr Libertina Amathila, Dr Christina Swart-Opperman, Ms Gwen Lister, Dr Elijah Ngurare, Mr Sven Thieme and Mr Desmond Amunyela, have been selected as our 'Friends'. Their outfits are currently being designed and they will be photographed in auspicious settings which reflect their personalities and standing. These pictures, along with 'buy local' quotes, are going up on billboards. By the time you read these lines, the second shoot will be underway!

We thank these personalities for allowing Team to use their hard work to promote our message.

And remember, Ongwediva is around the corner. We need your promotional material by August 15.

And Remember - Be Namibian – Buy Namibian.

Trade entry to the United States

Team Namibia is proud to announce that member Heidi von Hase from Casa Anin is currently in Washington D.C. on an International Visitor Leadership Programme together with 34 women, one from each sub-Saharan African country.

The background to this visit is the AGOA (African Growth and Opportunities Act) programme under which certain groups of items can be exported to the USA at preferential tariffs. The aim of this African Women's Entrepreneurship Programme is to increase African AGOA utilisation rates and to discuss business capacity building strategies for African entry into the US market. It also specifically seeks to foster women's participation in business policies. The visit coincides with the AGOA Ministerial Forum which will take place in Washington on and Kansas City, Missouri.

Heidi will address the AGM to provide more information on how members can make use of this programme.
